contacted said: "Currently an investigation is underway and this is being done through special investigators from the Governor's office." Debbas also said: "The Governor has no control over the F.B.I. This type of investigation is done through Roy K. Moore, who is the special investigator for the F.B.I. for the Gulf Coast area."

gambling as roulette wheel or other types of open gambling. He said any gambling house must have a federal license, in order to operate and also that there was a state law in Mississippi which prohibited gambling. In other words, as interpreted by the Governor's Press Secretary there would be no manner in which gambling at a professional level could be permitted within the State of Rumors have reached the office of the Governor that horse-racing and book-making betting is very prevalent within Hancock County. Other alleged forms of gambling include cock fights.

Boyce Holliman, district attorney for the area, now on vacation according to a report from his office, cannot be reached for comment. He is vested with authority within the area and the state attorney who when contacted said that Mississippi law prohibits gambling. He also said that he stood ready to advise Holliman should his services be required.

STATE ATTORNEY GENERAL COMMENTS

Attorney General for the State of Mississippi A. F. Summer said on Tuesday morning when contacted by a reporter for the Sea Coast Echo: "We have already talked with a New Orleans T. V. station this morning about the reported gambling going on in Hancock County".

Summer said "I've prohibited my issuing an opinion to any one other than a public official, and we have referred our information to your district attorney Boyce Holliman. We are available to the district attorney."

Attorney General Sumner further said: "The Sheriff of the county is responsible only to answer to the people who elected him. However, should there be a complete break-down in the law, the Governor has the authority to move in and take over. It would have to be an open break-down in the law, the Governor then has the authority

Summer stressed the point that it would have to be a complete break-down in authority of law at a local level before the Governor would be charged with the responsibility to see that all laws of the State are obeyed. He said: "Our State Constitution provides local officers with authority and your sheriff has authority within his county."

Contacted continuously by newspaper reporters and radio stations, Sheriff Fred Curet sat at his desk on Tuesday morning replying to questions brought to bare when Radio and Television Station WDSU telephoned Governor John Bell Williams demanding an investigation be made of gambling reportedly going on in Hancock County. Governor Williams is said to have told a representative of the radio station that he would conduct an investigation and should there be gambling he took care of by the Sheriff's Department, he would intervene and see that the gambling laws were strictly enforced.

Curat said: "No, Governor Williams has not telephoned me in regard to this situation, and I do not expect him to." He added: "There just couldn't be any big time gambling in this county. Camille didn't leave anything to gamble with." Curat admitted he was aware there was an afternoon poker game played by retired businessmen at the racco, and that some "little old ladies" were playing Bingo here and there. He said: "This was going on when I came into office, and I don't see anything wrong with it."

"Governor Williams knows what is going on in this County", Curet affirmed, and added that the F.B.I. have men running an inspection tour of this area every 30 days. Curet said if home town poker players and bingo and black jack players constitute gambling then he believes that gambling is going on in every one of the 82 counties within the state.

Fred Adams, Jr., President, Adams Foods, Inc. of Jackson today announced details of a $1 million dollar catfish production and processing complex located for Hancock County, Mississippi.

Adams, a native of Macon, Miss., and a graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi said the operation will employ about 150 people. The company owned production facilities will be located on 1,850 acres of land recently purchased on Thomas Flat Road inside the Mississippi Test Facility's Buffer Zone.

The fish processing plant, hatchery, biology laboratory, sonic research station, cold storage, warehouses, product distribution, and operation of docks, will be located on 60 acres of land purchased from the Port and Harbor Commission in the industrial zone at Gulf Central Airport, Stennis Field, Pascagoula.

Finance and construction manager will be Paul Milam, Director, Fish Operations, Adams Foods, Inc. Milam also handled the negotiation between his company and C.H. Hill, Director, Hedges County Port and Harbor Commission.

Hill, in making details of the operation known to his commission last week said that in addition to their own company production, Adams Foods has

The Adams Company president said his organization was involved in many projects but that none had given him as much personal satisfaction as the proposed Hancock County operation.

"I feel we have a natural marriage of interests in bringing this plant and operation to Hancock County," Adams said, adding, "The people here have a heritage of experience and interest in seafood processing and in the harvesting of both fresh and salt water fish."

"The closing of the seafood handling facilities over the years has left trained personnel in the County that should provide a base for our needs in the months ahead."

Adams Foods, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Cal-Maine Foods, Inc. of Jackson, Miss., with operations on the West Coast, New England, and the South, is in the production, processing, and distribution of eggs, egg products, poultry, fish, beef, pork, and frozen foods in several locations in Mississippi. The company is also currently operating a fish processing plant at Morgan City, Miss.

The Robert Christ Episcopal Church at 922 S. Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, designed by J. Buchanan Bilton & Associates, Architects of Gulfport and New Orleans, might well be described as traditionally Mississippi Gothic style, of the most simplistic. The contract was awarded to Claude Hogan Construction, Inc. of Waveband, Mississippi, and construction began this week.

The bell-tower chapel was again on all sides and to be assigned to be walked through the formal entrance to the church. The piano and the bell-tower carve to unite the church-parish house complete a pleasing unit and provide a colorful setting for our door baptisms, weddings, and the like. For special occasions

The interior of the church, facing the sea, will be highlighted by a "rose window" six feet in diameter, giving both the exterior and interior of the church a "warm glow."

The interior of the church will have a "vaulted" ceiling of most finish; the interior door on the left will be $0 by 20 feet, providing a cooling effect for 225 persons. The area between the door and the altar will consist of laminated arches

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING of the new Christ Episcopal Church in the bulk at 912 South Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis. The church was designed by J. Buchanan Blitch & Associates, Architects of Gulfport and New Orleans. The construction contract was awarded to Claude Hagan Construction of Wayland, Mississippi. Construction began this week and it is hoped that the building will be completed by January or February, 1971.

Letters to the editor

Re: Sheriff Fred Curet

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

Since the name of the game has become "lets Get The Sheriff", lets look at the other side, if some of our citizens are capable of doing so.

Please bear in mind, that we have had good sheriffs, and some not so good, as well as constables etc. My question is, how many sheriffs have we had that belonged to the National Sheriff's Association, Mississippi Tennessee Sheriff's Association, Mississippi Peace Officers Association, twice A Cornell on the Governor's Staff and numerous other organizations and associations which help to add DIGNITY to the county which we can never have too much of.

As for Mrs. Sheriff, as Mrs. Curet, was referred to, should a lady be criticized for taking an interest in her husband's career?

For those of us who remember, the Sheriff's campaign slogan was Veteran, Law Enforcement Officer, Businessman. The latter meaning that prior to his seeking political office, the Sheriff and his family owned the Security Patrol, Trucks, Heavy Equipment etc.

I am sure that if some people would take the time to undo some of their wrong doings, and would be as dedicated to their office as they claim, they would not have enough time to have someone to write letters to the editor.

Yours very truly,
MRS. WM. LEBLANC

Hancock Red Cross

Releases Figures

Bob Sayle, chairman of the Hancock County Red Cross announced that the Red Cross Disaster Service released 3,415 families in Hancock County after Hurricane Camille.

Mass care and individual assistance to families amounted to approximately $2,295,458, 28.

20 houses were rebuilt and 436 were repaired.

Other assistance given was for food furnished by Red Cross but cooked by the Army, clothing, household furnishings, medical assistance, and occupational supplies and equipment.

The quota for Hancock County this year is $214,000. To date we have received $65,000. Send donations to American Red Cross, P.O. Box 67, Bay St. Louis.

August 20, 1970

Honorable A. F. Summer
Attorney General of the State of Mississippi
New Capitol Building
Jackson, Mississippi

Dear Sir:
Currently there exists in Hancock County a situation of dubious ethical (and possibly legal) status regarding the Sheriff, W. A. (Fred) Curet, Jr., and the operation of the Sheriff's Department. As you may know, in addition to his official position as Sheriff, Mr. Curet has a principle interest in Curet Private Patrol, Inc.

An examination of the Articles of Incorporation of Curet Private Patrol, Inc. (filed February 26, 1970, during Mr. Curet's present term in office), reveals that the stated purpose of the business is to "engage in a private patrol business; to engage in a private detective business; to conduct private investigations . . . for private, business, commercial and governmental concerns."

The Articles of Incorporation also specify that Mr. Curet is the firm's registered agent; that he, his wife, Ruth F. Curet, and his son, James L. Curet, comprise the Board of Directors; and that the business address of Curet Private Patrol, Inc. is 509 Highland Drive, Bay St. Louis, which is also the address of Mr. Curet's residence.

Mr. Curet's business has placed advertisements in a Harrison County newspaper which has a substantial circulation in Hancock County. (See enclosed advertisement from The Owl, Pass Christian, Miss., August 18, 1970.) He has not, so far as I can tell, advertised in the Hancock County paper, the Sea Coast Echo.

This example of discretion in advertising may or may not be significant. At any rate, the firm is currently doing business with various "private, business, commercial and governmental concerns" in Hancock County (see enclosed letter clipped from Sea Coast Echo, August 13, 1970).

To one who has had little schooling in the law, there seems to be an obvious case of conflict of interest here. The protection that Curet Private Patrol, Inc., contracts to provide already falls within Mr. Curet's jurisdiction as Sheriff. Furthermore, the potential for operating what is commonly called a "protection racket" must not be overly obscure.

As a citizen of Hancock County, I would appreciate your opinion in this matter.

Sincerely,
Peter J. Benvenuti, Jr.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

While there is so much talk and dissent: over discrimination, this Sewerage deal in the future of Waveland, will ultimately bring to our minority of Salar Citizens, living almost in indigent circumstances, owing only the home they live in, come homes located perhaps 150 ft. from the street, one can imagine, the pipe cost and labor to install it will be a prohibitive financial blow to these people facing the Sun set of life, along with ailing health.

Now, my gripe is this; while our extreme benevolent Federal government, in handing out Free Grants "Upturn" etc. "Charity", I call it, to so many people, why not give or install free this coverage deal to all old folk paying taxes, on the only home they own and live in? Those in Bay St. Louis, are no exception, Bay Salar Citizens could have the fee deducted from their taxes, or refund them a check for the cost.

I've heard there are some citizens with sufficient connections, and who live out of town, L.A. for instance, have been ignored with "Upturn." No need to ask who they are! I shall reply "No comment," because I'm merely using "Upturn" as an example of free grants for the tax paying Salar citizens on fixed incomes, pensions, etc. Indigent poor, whose days are numbered.

I can understand, the local State, and National Bureaucrats, will, abhor, belittle, and ignore my suggestion; but a Divine Providence, will take care of these ailing, old folks, despoils of their ultra progressive, home saplings, in a very special way.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Eleanor McFie
Waveland, Miss.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo

I understand that the President of the United States, has been financing the construction of the new highway in Hancock County. Although the people in the area promote the highway, they should be given the courage and the people of Hancock County.

Having flown to the service for some time, and being a citizen of this county, I have been in the area for some time. I have seen the highway and the people who are in the area. I have seen the highway and the people who are in the area. I have seen the highway and the people who are in the area.

Well, all I can say is that the highway is a good thing. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area.

Well, all I can say is that the highway is a good thing. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area.

Well, all I can say is that the highway is a good thing. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area.

Well, all I can say is that the highway is a good thing. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area. It will help the people in the area.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

My credit was not good enough to build. We are giving up and moving west. I purchased this piece of ground, not for speculation, but to build a dream upon. It is unquestionably the most beautiful spot in it's price range in this area.

It is in the city limits of Bay St. Louis.

It has one oak tree, about 15 pines, and many flowers and shrubs.

It crosses a small lagoon with excellent fishing.

Across the lagoon is a marsh, and across the marsh is a view of the bay, and of fantastically beautiful sunsets.

There is part of a house sitting where the storm left it. The rest of the house has been dismantled and is stacked nearby.

All the utilities were connected, and the connections are still there.

It is very secluded - only the backs of two other houses are visible a block away.

It is 950 feet from the sea wall.

The price is $2,000. No terms available. Please be prompt. It's something we love.

It is in the city limits of Bay St. Louis.

It has one oak tree, about 15 pines, and many flowers and shrubs.

It crosses a small lagoon with excellent fishing.

Across the lagoon is a marsh, and across the marsh is a view of the bay, and of fantastically beautiful sunsets.

There is part of a house sitting where the storm left it. The rest of the house has been dismantled and is stacked nearby.

All the utilities were connected, and the connections are still there.

It is very secluded - only the backs of two other houses are visible a block away.

It is 950 feet from the sea wall.

The price is $2,000. No terms available. Please be prompt. It's something we love.

Guardsmen...

The Commendation Medal awarded to MAJ John T. Munro, Executive Officer of the 13th and CPT F. Ryan, Commander of the 13th, and CPT D. Enlisted members of HHD receive the Commendation Medal. The recipients include SP5 James A. Dyer, SP4 Gary R. DeGeorge, SP4 Michael W. Soljon, and SP4 John W. Ross Jr., all of the 13th in Ocean Springs. The Commendation Medal was awarded to SP5 Joel Levi, SP4 John W. Ross Jr., SP4 John N. Higginbotham, SP4 M. Cox, SP4 Frank J. Grant and SP4 Jesse W. Kan-

Six Members of the 134th Transportation Company (LT TRK), Bay St. Louis, received Commendation Medals. They are SP4 Terrell A. Dyer, SP4 Rodney D. Bilbo, PFC Dennis F. Kelley, PFC John V. Kelley and PFC John V. Ladner III.

City officials and Supervisors from the coast area as well as Lt. Governor Charles Sullivan, MAJ General Walter G. Johnson, Mississippi's Adjutant General, Brigadier General John Fishel, Assistant Adjutant General, and Brigadier General John F. Sims, Commander of the 184th Transportation Company (NT) Lauriat, General Johnson presented the awards.

CO Harry E. Jones of the 13th is the Battalion Commander for the 13th.

Excerpts from the Soldier's Medal recipients follow. Dyer, who was in the Hurricane waters Bilbo and by sheer courage and determination succeeded in saving a partially destroyed building. To this he tied a rope which he towed from the amphibious craft, and was aboard a LARC which came aboard, it being a drift toward the Gulf. Dyer went overboard to help. All personnel and vehicle were saved.

King--In Pass Christian on Larc crew--When a cry for help was heard, King quickly jumped around himself and went into the hurricane waters and swam toward a severely damaged home. There he and three victims almost submerged. He secured a life line and extricated each person and pulled them back and forth until they were safely aboard.

Seymour and Lotz--In Bilbo aboard a Larc--Monitoring distress call from a sister ship at the height of the storm, they out to retrieve the craft. Dyer successfully collected the victims and while enroute to deliver these passengers, three children were taken aboard from a utility pole and an elderly woman was plucked from the swirling waters. SP4 Lotz dove into the waters to secure the victims. Later on distress call, they found two youths trapped in a flooded house by a large tree. They carefully maneuvered the Larc to affect the rescue. Rodney--In Pass Christian--Heard cries for help coming from a house down a narrow alley. Unable to get the LARC through, he jumped into the turbulent waters and swam to the house. There he found 16 children and two adults standing in the rising water and the house rapidly disintegrating. He succeeded in getting a rope secured to the LARC and with the help of the adults managed to get all the children aboard the LARC.

Fairley--In Diberville--had 35 citizens aboard his LARC when the vehicle lost its marlin drive, and was being swept into a supermarket. He jumped into the water and succeeded in getting a rope to a tree to anchor the LARC. Again he went into the waters to inspect the propeller. He found a log jammed between the propeller and housing. Keeping his nose in an air pocket, he remained under the water for over five minutes dislodging the log. All then proceeded to safety.

Dodson--In Pass Christian--Observed two men and a young boy struggling to reach safety. Tides tore the young boy from their grip. Dodson dove into the current and went under where the boy disappeared. He succeeded in locating the boy and despite the treacherous undertow managed to hold onto the youth. Using a half submerged automobile as an anchor to prevent them from being swept out into the Gulf, he simultaneously swam and towed the boy to a life line strung out by his crew. Both eventually reached safety.

All these actions and others meriting the Commendation Medal were performed during the Hurricane's fury. Guardsmen answered calls of distress and volunteered their assistance unhesitatingly from relative areas of safety. All vehicles were sheltered prior to the onslaught but their crews performed nearly all missions after waters and winds had trapped coast residents.

Soldiers Medal--may be awarded to any member who shall have distinguished himself by heroism not involving actual conflict with an armed enemy. The same degree of heroism is required as for the award of the distinguished Flying Cross. Performance must have involved personal hazard or danger and voluntary risk of life. It is the highest medal that can be awarded to a reserve component for heroism during peacetime. Commendation Medal--May

GENERAL WALTER G. JOHNSON awards Sp. 4 Rodney Bilbo of Bay St. Louis, at award ceremonies held at Camp Shelby. Standing next to Bilbo is PFC Randolph Ladner, also of Bay St. Louis.

RECEIVING THE COMMENDATION MEDAL from General Walter Johnson is Sp. 4 Terrell Dyer, of Bay St. Louis. Special ceremonies were held at Camp Shelby last week to honor National Guardsmen for bravery during Hurricane Camille.

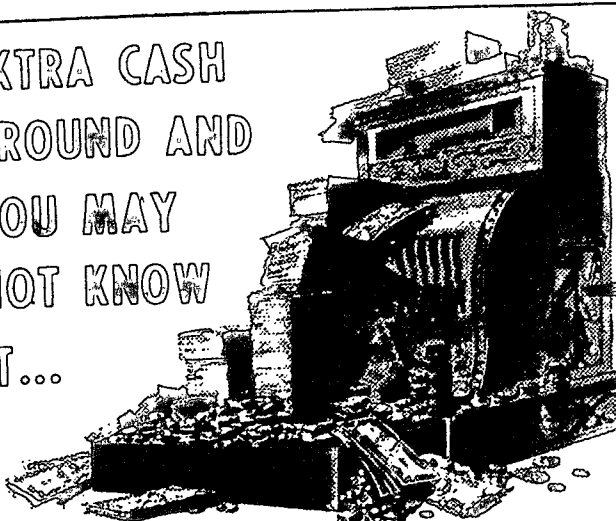

PFC JOHN KELLY, of Bay St. Louis is shown receiving the Commendation Medal from General Walter Johnson at award ceremonies held at Camp Shelby last week. PFC Michael Kelly, of Bay St. Louis, also received a Commendation Medal.

Supervisors Meeting Held Monday

Forty acres of land lying adjacent to the Stennis Field Airport, priced at $700 per acre and owned by L. C. Crosby, will be purchased by Hancock County to provide acreage for a planned cat fish processing plant. Resolution that the land be purchased was made by Supervisor Peck Mauffrey when the Board of Supervisors met on Monday after which a vote of two against and three in favor of the purchase was cast.

During a lively discussion prior to framing the resolution Supervisor Dolph Kellar made objections to what he felt was an exorbitant price for the acreage. Kellar said to purchase at such a price would set a precedent raising the cost of any land contemplated for future acquisition. Supervisor Charles Russ also spoke against the resolution.

Speaking before the board was Charlie Hill who gave assurance that the Hancock County, had personal estimator to evaluate the land and verified the price was fair for industrial use. The Hancock County, Inc. was reported to be financially stable and the proposed cat fish processing plant was said to be a welcomed and valuable asset to Hancock County. Compliance with the State Department of Health, Air and Water Pollution Board requirements have been assured. Fred Adams, of the industry, Fred Adams, was reported to be a multimillionaire.

Group Complains Of Road Damage

Unusually heavy rainfalls during August have filled ditches in the Bay Side Park to overflowing and made streets and roads impassable, according to a representative group of residents who appeared Monday before the Board of Supervisors asking that the situation be remedied.

The group explained that travel in the area ranged from dangerous to impossible and said in cases where ditches had been cleared the accumulated dirt and debris left along the road shoulders caused torrents of water to flow down the middle of the streets.

Supervisor Charles Russ together with president of the Board, Russell Elliott, agreed to meet with the men and inspect the area with a view to giving some relief immediately by opening up two or three of the major streets. A four o'clock Monday afternoon time was set for the inspection tour. Minutes later the heavens opened for another downpour which DISBELIEF AND DISAPPROVAL show in the faces of PHILIP ALLISON and DAN GRIFFON as they listen to PETE BENVENUTI in a rehearsal scene from "GENERATION." The final play of the 1970 season at the Little Theatre will run August 27 through 31. Edward Craig of Pass Christian is the director.

Theatre Names Hosts For Play

Miss Veronica Mohr, chairman of hospitality for the Little Theatre productions, states that the following members of the theatre will serve as hosts and hostesses during the presentation of "GENERATION" on Thursday, August 27, Mr. and Mrs. Robb R. Sanford and Mr. and Mrs. Dave McDonald; on Friday, August 28, Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lagarde; and on Saturday, August 29, Dr. and Mrs. Helmut Hornuff and Dr.

Pete Chapman and directed by Edward Craig, who also plays a role in the production. Advance tickets are available at DeMontuzin Drug Store and at the Sunshine Gift Shop in downtown Bay St. Louis.

Ring - Ybos Wed

Miss Gervyn Mary Ring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Ring of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Christopher Michael Ybos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Finley Ybos, Bay St. Louis, in a double ring ceremony at St. Clare's Catholic Church, Saturday, August 15.

Rev. Walter Maloney officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. John McKenna, organist, played the processional and recessional and a number of appropriate selections during the Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length white lace dress fashioned on Empire lines. Her short veil of illusion was held in place by a velvet bow and she carried a cascade of fleur d' amour.

Mrs. Ronald Peterson, Bay St. Louis, served her sister as bridesmaid. She wore a blue nylon dotted swiss trimmed in white lace with a matching velvet bow in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Henry Pullizzano was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Bay Senior High School. The groom, a graduate of Bay High is attending Pearl River Junior College, Poplarville.

Library Foo Suspended

The City-County Library will for a period of two weeks accept past-due books with no fees charged, according to Mrs. Alice Prindville, co-ordinator for that institution.

Mrs. Prindville said there are quite a number of books out of circulation that are needed by the library and that this is understandable since many patrons vacation during the summer months and are unable to return books on schedule.

Books may be brought into the library during a period of the next two weeks, or simply placed in the drive-in book drop facility and there will be no fines imposed for the over-time.

Patrons of the library are requested to take advantage of these 14 days of forgiveness and to return past-due books.

JAYCEE DINNER
The Bay St. Louis Jaycees will hold a Wives Appreciation Night this Saturday, August 29, at the Jaycee Hall. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. A spaghetti dinner will be served at 8. Guest speaker for the dinner will be Ralph Sewell, President of the Mississippi Jaycees. All members and their wives are cordially invited.

SCHOOL OPENING

J. F. Marquies, principal of Hancock North Central, announced that the school will hold registration on August 28 at 8:15 a.m. Regular classes and cafeteria service will begin on August 31.

CANDY STRIP

Our Little Theatre production of "GENERATION" will be a candy strip. The candy will be sold at the theatre.

PUPPY WINS

Greavens High Hopes, an Irish Setter puppy, owned by Constance Kelly Preeton, of Bay St. Louis, won the award for the best male puppy in the Irish Setter Club match held in New Orleans this past weekend. The little male was beaten by a female for best all-around puppy.

and the faceted stained glass windows.

In the rear of the church will be a choir area for 30 singers and a room for a large electronic organ.

To the west side of the church and parish house complex will be a paved parking lot with accommodations for 50 cars.

Inset in the place will be a multi-faced cornerstone, embracing the 1890 stone from the old church, the new cornerstone, and a plaque memorializing the name of "Virginia Hall."

The elevation of the entire facility will be 17'-6" above sea level, or almost two feet above the surrounding land.

Heating and cooling of the church and parish house will be by three individual packages, with individual controls and condensing units.

The north side of the church building will be dominated by two buttress like projections, providing for a mechanical room, sacristy and vesting room in one and the main entrance vestibule in the other. The south side of the main office will have seven stained glass windows, all symbolic and individually designed.

"Virginia Hall," the all-purpose parish house will be rectangular, measuring 30 by 70 feet; with overall seating capacity for 200 per more people. This multi-use room can be divided into smaller spaces for special uses and can be used as an exercise, athletic area. A serving kitchen adjacent to the main hall will make possible meals for as many as 200 simultaneously. The decor will be white.

The structural details will be laminated wood arches and timber deck on special concrete caisson pile foundations and slab. The exterior walls will be wood frame, with diagonal sheathing and hurricane clips.

All doors of the church will be solid core wood, inset with stained glass salvaged from the old wrecked church.

The plan provided for many features, such as hardwood pews, organ, stained glass windows, bell tower, plaza, parking lot, and covered entrance walkways.

It is hoped that construction will be completed by January or February, 1971.

These new buildings will bring all 8 structural units of the Christ Episcopal Church and Day School complex together in one advantageous Bay St. Louis location, at 912 South Beach Boulevard, with the Rev. Charles R. Johnson, rector of the church and headmaster, founder of the school.

Under closely integrated management and administration the facilities of the Christ Episcopal Church, the Christ Episcopal Day School (elementary and secondary), the Christ Episcopal High School (including two new rectories, Virginia Hall, the new all-purpose parish house, and four school buildings, will occupy 10 landscaped areas, providing ample room for expansion.

The contract signed with Claude Hogan, provides for the basic church and parish house structures at a cost of $182,000.

The fully-equipped installation will require total expenditure of $258,000, and will include a large electric organ, for which space has been provided; wall-to-wall carpeting; seven stained-glass windows; a 6-foot rose window in the beach facade; 30 pews; a communion chapel, bell-tower and steeple; a paved parking lot for 50 cars; plus various appliances and kitchen equipment, athletic and musical equipment, for Virginia Hall.

The Rev. Johnson expressed faith that by the time the new plant is occupied early in 1971, memorial gifts, some of which have already been committed, will provide the congregation and their guests a fully furnished and decorated place of worship.

"Out of the ashes of hurricane Camille there is sure to arise in Bay St. Louis a new Christian landmark of beauty, dignity, and spiritual usefulness which will bring to

had received some specialized police training from various schools. He said they worked long hours and for very little money and that their lives were at times in danger in the performance of their duties. Curet pointed out the deplorable conditions existing in the Hancock County jail and said it was necessary to take the most dangerous criminals to Harrison County because of lack of security within the Hancock County jail.

He said that not only was the transporting of these prisoners a cost to the tax payer, but that it also took one away from other duty calls. He said his men were called upon to take people to Jackson to the State Mental Hospital and that a whole day was consumed when a patient had to be transported. He said his men were worked very hard especially during the end of the week when they had to be on duty at various domestic, ball games and public gatherings. In addition to all this, Curet pointed out "Our office at the Court House is open 24 hours a day and the county prisoners are used to clean the court house building as well as the trailers now in use. He said the prisoners had to be supervised in this work and that sometimes it was necessary for the policeman on duty to be away from the office where the burglar alarm devices are located for as long as 15 minutes. He said these devices are so sensitive that a roach or a rodent could set one off and he has instructed his men to first notify the owner when an alarm signal flashes, then to notify patrol officers who are on duty at the time of the alert.

In discussing the Curet Leasing Company, Curet said he has an interest in this company and had such a business connection prior to the time of his election. He said he does not furnish all the drivers of the vehicles, but does provide the insurance protection needed on all vehicles from local agency. He said this business does not require much of his personal time and he feels that his businesses really do not interfere with functioning of the sheriff's department.

Turning to the telephone Curet placed a call to verify with his C.P.A. a payroll aggregating to almost $70,000 for the fiscal year 1969 and involving some 90 people. He feels this employment and payroll is of appreciable benefit to Hancock County and that the standard of living for many people who would not otherwise be employable is made better. Curet said "We sometimes have jobs for the elderly and for those lacking specialized training."

Curet said: "I have no hobbies — don't fish or golf. I have been married for 25 years to the same lady and have one daughter and two sons who are in college. I don't spend any time hanging around the local bars and certainly am not going to allow outsiders to come in with those little pin ball games or other gambling devices." Curet said: "We have a clean county. There is some localized gambling such as card games and bingo, and I have had no complaints, so I have no objection to this."

In speaking of the Hancock County jail Curet said: "We've had the obsolete old building inspected and were told there isn't anything that can be done about it. It was built back in the 1930's and the locks and security just isn't adequate." He mentioned that it was necessary to put juveniles and women in the same quarters with narcotic cases and mentally deranged patients and said he would welcome the completion of the Detention Home that is under construction and being sponsored by the American Legion.

He recalled a case where recently a sixteen-year old girl's only privacy while jailed was arranged by hanging a sheet in front of her cell. He said narcotics was a problem and a growing one that involved not only teenagers but older citizens as well and he felt that there was greater need for securing qualified people to speak to various segments of the populace on the subject.

Curet said the general public was not aware of the time consuming demands made on county police officers who are called upon for funeral services that sometimes consume half days time. "Also," he pointed out, "There is the business of Waveland and Bay St. Louis court service." In reply to the question: "Do law enforcement officers become discouraged when low-breakers get off with such light sentences . . . or possibly trials are repeatedly postponed?" Curet said: "I try to tell my men it's our job to apprehend the criminal, the job of the attorney to try him, and the job of the judge to pass sentence. Our duty is that of getting the man." He said they had gotten accustomed and hardened to acceptance of decisions of the court.

Recalling his years of service with the Armed Forces Curet said he was with the Combat Marines in World War II and served from 1939 until 1946. He was a prisoner of war and a part of the Bataan Death March. Of food — "Yes, we ate dog. It's pretty good meat — if you're hungry."

Facility, and General chairman of the campaign, announced today the sixth annual Combined Agencies Campaign at MTF will officially begin September 14 and will run through October 2nd.

Mr. Balch also announced that Arthur G. Woodside, Manager of the MTF Section of General Electric MTSD, will serve as Drive Chairman in the campaign to raise funds for organized charities and social agencies in neighboring communities. E. L. "Bud" Lovell of GE/MTPO will serve as Executive Assistant to Mr. Woodside. R. L. Hulet and L. Hammond, also of the General Electric Company, will serve as Campaign Treasurer and Publicity Coordinator, respectively.

Woodside said the campaign's goal will be a contribution of one hour's pay per month by all employees, and 100 per cent participation. The Combined Agencies Campaign/Combined Federal Campaign is the single drive authorized to be conducted at the Mississippi Test Facility each year.

A feature of this year's campaign will be the selection of "Miss MTF Torch" from candidates nominated by each of the government and contractor agencies involved at the test facility. Mrs. Becky Sims of The Boeing Company was principal, and Mrs. Susan Carter of NASA was first alternate in the capacity during last year's drive.

Woodside pointed out that the drive is on behalf of the United Funds of Hancock, Harrison and South Pearl River Counties; the United Fund for Greater New Orleans Area (St. Tammany, St. Bernard, Orleans, and Jefferson Parishes); the National Health Agencies; and the International Welfare Agencies. MTF employees may designate the specific recipients of their contribution if they so desire.

Companies and organizations participating in the MTF campaign, and the vice chairman for each are: General Electric Services Dept., Harrison Fire, J. M. W. Defense Contract Admin. Agency, R. A. Cudd; NASA Mississippi Test Facility, A. J. Meyers; Springfield Business Maintenance Co., F. G. Franklin Co., B. Harrington; Lines N.

BIOGRAPHY

AT THE LIBRARY

"Don't cry, Angelina. Tonight I'll buy you a house, or I'll send you to university." With this vow to the sister who had raised him, Miguel Benitez prepared to make his first appearance as an aggressive member in the twentieth five years before he was called to an untimely death.

The author, Larry Collins and Dominique Lapierre, bring to life the rise of Miguel Benitez from his desperately poor beginnings through years of struggle to "become somebody" to his final ascent to fame and education as the idealized "El Cardenal."

THE SEARCH FOR ANGELIA BARNHART by Fred Goerner.

What happened to Angelia Barnhart? Was she simply lost? Was she captured by the Japanese? Was she a spy? For almost thirty years doubt has surrounded the mystery of the famous actress and her navigator, Fred Noonan. A mysterious world followed her globe-circling flight in 1937; then they disappeared without a trace.

THE RIGHT TIME, an autobiography by Harry Golden.

Harry Golden embodies many paradoxes: Reared in an Orthodox Jewish home, he married an Irish Catholic girl; sentenced to a prison term for mail fraud, he later became the intimate of some of the greatest figures in American politics and literature. It could have happened only in America, and the story of this big hearted individualist is told through with a deep and abiding love of his country and for some of its leaders who were his friends.

light on his private life and career, on his political beliefs and activities, and on the influences that shaped his writing. She also discusses and analyzes his major works, making this a full-dimensional biography, as well as a history, in part, of the black struggle.

THE CRIPPLED TREE, A MORTAL FLOWER, and BIRDLESS SUMMER, all by Han Suyin.

THE CRIPPLED TREE is China. Powerful, penetrating, vast in its scope, in form, it is the autobiography of a fascinating woman, whose turbulent life has been a struggle to reveal the conflict between widely divergent elements in her own background - the same conflict which China itself faces between an ancient eastern tradition and the sudden confrontation of modern Western civilization.

This is an intelligent, emotional, beautifully written account of an intensely lived childhood in China, a compelling and intimate portrait of a woman - and the colorful that is modern China.

Two hearts beat as one in A MORTAL FLOWER. One is the heart of a young Eurasian girl growing up in Peking beginning to earn her own living, setting forth to fulfill her ambition to become a doctor, gradually emancipating herself from her family to overcome the special problems a Eurasian encounters in social and emotional relationships. The other is the great heart of China as it pounds through the tumultuous years from 1927-1938.

In the course of her narrative Han Suyin draws penetrating sketches of such figures as Chiang Kai-shek, of Chen Ye, and Mao Tse-tung, Chu Teh, and Madame Chiang Kai-shek. She tells how Mao adopted the methods which made the Red army a cohesive force and ultimately brought it supremacy in Asia.

In BIRDLESS SUMMER, the third volume of Han Suyin's autobiography, the events of Chinese history between 1938 and 1948 are vividly reconstructed. The story of her unhappy marriage to a fanatical army officer is told against the background of the appalling confusion and corruption of China at that time. Han Suyin's narrative is not merely the affecting and extraordinary life story of a woman of immense courage. In the way that it brings to life more powerfully than ever before the spirit and politics of China, it is a significant contribution to the history of our time.

Logion Lacks Storage Space

Pat Toomey, service officer for the Waveland American Legion Post 77, has made a request that donations of clothing for hurricane victims be discontinued. "We would like to thank all the people who have been working with us," Toomey said, and added that he had been informed Corpus Christi Cella victims have been well supplied with clothing, but are now in need of cash funds.

The American Legion Post in Waveland is said to be growing with a roster of 101 members against last year's count of 78. Legionnaires meet on the first Friday of each month and aside from lending support in many civic endeavors they are now planning to sponsor a Boy Scout program.

The deadline announced as Thursday for receiving clothing donations was necessary, Toomey said, because the Post Home lacks facilities for storage and handling. He believes that several church groups are still working on clothing collection projects for needy people, and suggests that those wishing to make contributions of this kind get in touch with the church of their choice.

MR. SAMUEL CUEVAS OF BAY ST. LOUIS ACCEPTS DELIVERY OF HIS NEW CHEVY FROM LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET SALESMAN JOE BERNARD.

Mr. Samuel Cuevas decided that it was time for him to buy a new car. He dropped around the different dealers along the coast to find out where he could get the best deal. At Lamar-Lane Chevrolet he talked to salesman Joe Bernard. Joe Bernard gave him a Lamar-Lane Chevy on a 1970 Chevy that was the best deal offered Mr. Cuevas and it had more equipment than the other dealers offered him. Folks are finding out about the wonderful deals offered at Lamar-Lane Chevrolet on new cars and trucks. If you're thinking about buying a new car or truck, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for salesman Joe Bernard; he could save you many dollars. Mr. Samuel Cuevas recommends Joe Bernard and Lamar-Lane Chevrolet to all of his friends thinking about buying a new car or truck.

Christmas Seal District Meeting

This past week, Mrs. O. Duke Chairman of the Hancock County Tuberculosis Association attended the District Christmas Seal Campaign Meeting in Jackson. The meeting was held at the Primas Northgate.

A large delegation of area Tuberculosis Association volunteers joined the Hancock County workers in discussing the Christmas Seal Campaign which will officially open November 16. In addition to campaign discussions, the group discussed new ideas for programs in health education, public information, case finding, medical education, patient services, rehabilitation and research.

During the meeting, special emphasis was placed on keeping the public abreast of the extensive problem of tuberculosis and respiratory diseases in Mississippi, educational programs on the hazards of smoking and progress in air pollution control.

Four District Meetings were scheduled this year - one in each section of the state. Total attendance exceeded 200 key volunteer officers and workers from counties throughout Mississippi.

The South is wired for action.

For "outstanding community service in restoring electric power supply to its service area" following Hurricane Camille's devastating pounding last year, the Mississippi Power Company, a Southern Company subsidiary, has been presented the U.S. electric utility industry's highest honor... The Edison Award.

"Our 850 employees, along with some 1600 personnel from affiliated and non-affiliated electric utilities and contractors, were faced with the nearly impossible task of rebuilding transmission and distribution lines and other electric facilities. Working under the most trying conditions, these courageous and dedicated people transformed well-conceived plans into concrete achievements, restoring electric service to every customer able to use it in record time."

Economic Report Very Favorable

Mississippi's economic activity moved forward during the months of June and July with seven of the ten indicators showing positive percentage changes. The favorable report by the Mississippi Economic Council compares activity during months in 1969 with movements during the same months in 1970.

Honored

Tracy High School in California has been named Dunbar-Russell High School in honor of two servicemen who were killed in Vietnam.

One of the men honored, Donald Russell, was the brother of Mrs. Foster Linder of Bay St. Louis.

Russell served 22 months in Vietnam and was three months short of completing his second tour of duty in the combat zone when he was killed. Mr. Russell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Russell of California.

Consumption of industrial gas, for the second consecutive year, led advancing indicators with an increase of 20.5 per cent during June. Consumption climbed from 2.9 million (MCF) in June 1969 to 3.0 million (MCF) in June 1970.

Only a fraction of a percentage point separated the second and third leading indicators. Bank debts went up 11.8 per cent and consumption of electricity increased 11.5 per cent. Comparing the months of June, bank debts changed from $2.2 billion to $2.5 billion, while electricity consumption advanced from 1.1 million (thousand KWH) to 1.3 million (thousand KWH).

The three indicators representing unfavorable activity were gasoline tax collections, new claims for unemployment compensation, and total claims for unemployment compensation. Gasoline tax collections were the only indicator showing a negative move, with a drop of 2.9 per cent. New claims and total claims for unemployment compensation increased 45.7 per cent and 51.1 per cent, respectively. Increases in these two areas are unfavorable because it indicates a probable loss in total wage earnings across the State. During July 1970, 13,245 more Mississippians filed for unemployment compensation than were recorded during the same month last year.

State sales tax collections and total State tax collections by the Tax Commission were up in June over the same month last year. With an increase of 7.6 per cent, sales tax collections climbed from $27.2 million to $29.3 million. Total collections advanced from $17.0 million to $18.3 million, resulting in a positive percentage change of 7.3 per cent.

Advances were also reported by the MEC in the areas of telephone in service and non-agricultural employment.

The number of telephones in service in June 1969 was 759,393, while in June of 1970 this figure had increased 6.4 per cent to 807,910.

Non-agricultural employment edged up to 0.7 per cent, going from 570,600 in June 1969 to 574,400 in the same month of this year.

YO Trip

Recently, St. Ann's CYO returned from a weekend trip to Escalante Beach, Florida. Transportation was provided by Father Hayes, of Kln who had enough to lend a school to the CYO.

Chaperones for the trip were Mrs. and Mrs. Louie Forray, Mr. Mrs. Jerry Boos, June Valand Jerry Boos, Jr.

Those who made the trip were Angela Boos, Alvin Lad, Dave Boos, Steve Roche, Jerry Boos, Timmy Moran, Brian Johnson, Fritz Garcia, Hank Klein III, Philip Garcia, June Boos, Guy Valvis, Timmy Hayes, Melania Lenn, Debbie Richards, Madonna, Lisa Cozaubon, Connie Blane, Sherry Ricks and Grace Boos.

the fact that pride in one's home means pride in the community. Also, the property owner should care for city property that may be adjacent to his home. This will not only make the property more attractive but will add to the beauty of Bay St. Louis.

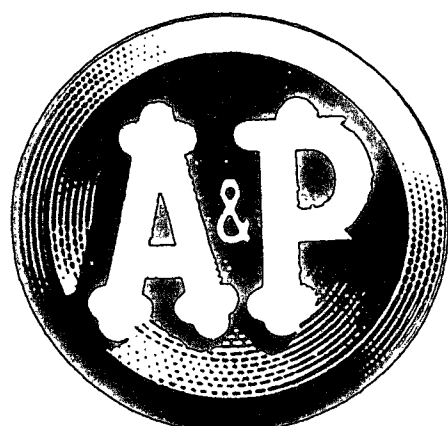

Mrs. P. J. Benvenuti, a member of the Committee said, "When each person keeps his property in outstanding condition, the entire community benefits."

Each week a different home will be selected by the Committee. Chairman of the Committee is Mrs. H. O. Robinson.

Seminary Held Summer Retreats

This summer St. Augustine Seminary offered the opportunity to Catholic men from parishes in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Arkansas on making a weekend spiritual renewal (retreat).

The renewal began Friday evening, July 31, with supper at 6:30 followed by celebration of the Eucharist and the first talk at 8:00 o'clock. Sunday featured a variety of spiritual discussions, reflection of the Holy Trinity, procession to Lourdes grotto and to the Stations of the Cross in the Seminary's cemetery. The spiritual renewal terminated Sunday afternoon with a procession of the Faith and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Approximately all of the men attending the retreats this summer came from Catholic parishes in Louisiana. Many of the men are always welcome to attend and in fact non-Catholics have attended many times. The Seminary sponsored three weekend retreats this year, one July 10-12, 17-19 and 24-26, with 63 making a spiritual renewal.

The spiritual renewal program at St. Augustine Seminary began in 1965. Since then it has continued each summer uninterrupted. Some summers more than 200 hundred Catholic men came to Bay St. Louis and received their spiritual enrichment, returning home to live a more generous Christian life.

Father George Gregory Wilson, S.V.D., conducted the three weekend retreats. A native of New York City, he came to St. Augustine in 1928 and was ordained to the priesthood January 8, 1941, by Bishop Richard O. Garov, S.T.D. From September 1941 to 1968 Father Wilson worked in the missions of the Divine Word Missionaries of Ghana, Africa, as a bush missionary and spiritual director of Brothers and Sisters.

Father Wilson is presently editor of DIVINE WORD MESSENGER, a bi-monthly organ of the Southern Province of Divine Word Missionaries.

Receives Training

Capt. William Charles Beetham, of the U.S. Army Reserve School in New Orleans, is presently attending the Branch Officer Advanced Course here.

The course is being conducted by the U.S. Army Reserve School from Omaha, Neb., commanded by Col. Richard C. Oshio.

The reservists are receiving training prescribed by programs of instructions published by The Infantry School at Fort Benning.

Capt. Beetham's wife, Claudette Cordilla, lives at 328 Bellemeade Blvd., Gretna, La., and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar W. Beetham, reside at 231 Chadwick St., Waveland, Miss.

USM Holds Graduation

Summer commencement rites Saturday night at the University of Southern Mississippi saw 728 students receiving diplomas, 487 of these being undergraduates, the remainder graduate degrees.

President William D. McCain presided over the exercises, held in the H. Rouse Caffery Gymnasium, with several deans assisting.

In the graduate degrees area there were several "firsts". These included a husband-wife doctoral team, Kenneth D. and Jewel Blodock Israel of Jacksonville, Fla.

The first Business Education doctorates were granted to Gloria Brunner Taylor, of Hattiesburg, and Francis J. Jerald Douglas McCollum, of Mobile, Ala., became the first doctoral graduates in music.

Three students received their diplomas as University Honors Program graduates. These were Ronald Richard Rollison, graduating Magna Cum Laude in English and Mathematics; Susan Rae Moore, Piquette, graduating Magna Cum Laude in General Business; and Diana Adams Watkins Kinder, Micoon, graduating Summa Cum Laude in Home Economics.

William Thomas Burroughs of Hattiesburg posthumously received a Bachelor of Science, Magna Cum Laude in Accounting.

Two seniors finished with highest honors. These were Irma Hawkins Stringer, Ridgeland, recipient of a B.S. in English; and Nadine M. Carmichael of Tylertown, recipient of a B.S. in Elementary Education.

Also, Myra Suzanne Rowe, Roco Ann Raywood, both of Laurel; Anna Carolyn Harrington, L. Gilmore, L. Cris Bell, Virginia Mary Ruth Price, Florence; Mary Josephine Warren, Ketchikan; and Mary Ann Powell, West Palm Beach, Fla. While there was no principal speaker at the commencement.

James Neil Cardin, who was injured while at Chocoma Landing camp at the University of Mississippi, is back home after four days stay in Baptist Hospital, Memphis, Tenn., and is able to be out again.

Alma Moker every way possible. "When graduates shift in their every day success, their Alma Moker will shift with them, and as their University progresses, their degree is enhanced," he concluded.

Prior to the graduation ceremonies, the Summer class attended a buffet dinner in the University Commons, guests the Alumni Association. Members of the 1980 Diploma Club were also guests, and these latter were presented with Gold University Diplomas during graduation.

Facilities Now Available To Blind And Handicapped

Talking Books and Tape recordings plus the long-time use of machines on which to play them are now available to the blind and the handicapped people of Hancock County through the facilities of the City-County Library, according to Mrs. Alice Prindville who is coordinator for that institution.

In discussing the manner in which these excellent facilities may be obtained, Mrs. Prindville said, "Rules originating in Washington require the Mississippi Library Commission, whose director is Miss Mary Love, to request application be filled in and approved before the service begins. These application blanks may be picked up at the library.

The questions asked on the form are very simple and include such needed information as the age and education level of the handicapped person. Other information requested is whether the applicant can read braille or large type, his or her reading interests, the extent of the visual impairment or physical handicaps and the cause. These forms, when filled in, must be certified by a physician or by someone at the County Health Department.

Mrs. Prindville said it normally takes a week or ten days to process one of these applications. The form is returned to the City-County Library and in turn forwarded to the vocational rehabilitation for the blind center in Jackson. Other than blind persons may qualify for the service if they, for any reason, cannot hold a book or have a physical defect of a mature serious enough to make normal reading difficult to impossible.

Once the application is approved the rest of the service is on a direct basis. Books and records are mailed direct to the applicant, and are returned by mail and postage free to Jackson.

How does one know what materials are available? A list is sent. In fact there are two lists—one for children and one for adults. Those using the service are asked to make a rather long selection, up to about twenty books, in order that there can be a steady flow of reading material. As soon as one set of records or books is returned, another is on its way. In addition to books and music there is also available a limited number of periodicals.

Mrs. Prindville said: "Large amounts of money and a great deal of human effort and good will go into the program of library service for the blind and handicapped. The success of this program lies in informing those who are entitled to its benefits."

The name "talking book" is believed to have originated with Robert B. Irvin. Blind himself, Irvin was for almost half a century a leader in many aspects of work for the blind. He was the initiator and first manager of the talking books, and considered the individual responsible for the passage of the Frank-Strauss Act and other legislation for the blind. Talking books were, incidentally, for the first time playing records, proceeding the commercial and popular variety by almost 15 years.

Every thing has been thought of! If there is a request, these talking books and records may be heard by the handicapped alone—and other members of a family can at the same time listen to T.V., radio or simply talk. This is done through the use of ear phones. Ear phones, while available free of charge are sent only by request.

The small Bay St. Louis library has gone a long way in a short time. Twice each week a telephone service between Bay St. Louis and the State Library Commission in Jackson takes place. At that time the titles of wanted books are listed and, usually, within a week the requested book is on its way!

Glancing through the catalog of books available to the handicapped one will note such subject matter as philosophy, religion, social science, science, technology, the arts, literature, geography, history, fiction in French, German, Italian and Spanish, mysteries, science fiction, westerns, and fiction for slow readers.

Miss recorded his history and his thoughts for more than 4,000 years before he made a book that a blind person could read. Not until the middle 1800's did embossed books begin to appear. These were in great supply.

In the 1800's with the establishment of a uniform system of English braille, the development of the talking-book records and the enactment of legislation providing for circulating libraries for the blind came the production of braille and talking books and later with the expansion of the program in 1966, the Library of Congress has extended a service "THAT ALL MAY READ."

Director Presents Plans To Board Of Supervisors

Talmage Rayborn, newly appointed director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, presented on Monday morning to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors a comprehensive conception of future projects designed to promote, strengthen and develop dormant potential existing within the county.

Rayborn said: "We are going to set up a number of committees and appoint able commission men to see that they function". Rayborn urged members of the Board to serve with the committees in their efforts to correct undesirable conditions existing within the city and county.

He said: "Let's get a Government Affairs Committee at work to promote civic interest." He said he felt we should set up a Police Academy to train our police forces for proper enforcement of law and order. He said attendance in the academy should be compulsory for everybody from the chief on down to the constable.

The need for vocational schools for the area was also expressed by Rayborn as well as a Shelter Workshop to school and train the handicapped people of Hancock County.

"Let's Talk Mississippi", Rayborn said, "Let's don't get us entangled with our own state and let us forget we are part of the state." Rayborn said he felt we should make a place for our college graduates so that it will not be necessary to leave the state.

As well as explore the potential. He would like to see Hancock County participate in the Miss Hospitality Contest, observe Career Day within the high schools, sponsor a County Fair, develop the Dairy business and encourage the farmers by promoting a farmer-of-the-year competition in Hancock County, declaring June the Dairy month, and possibly locating an agricultural experimental station in the Buffer Zone. He says some farmers glean up to 200 bushels of corn per acre in this area and soy beans are of fine quality grown in this soil. Rayborn said: "Let's become an informed people — let's find out what's feasible."

Chamber of Commerce members plan a tour of the county to visit leading farms in the near future. Rayborn sees pig raising through 4-H members as a potentially rewarding and lucrative business. He said one sow bringing in two litters per year has a potential value of $1,500. He recommends placing with collected 4-H boys good blood-line gilts and explained to the enlightenment of his audience that a gilt to a "female, maiden piglet that has never reproduced."

GCC Holds Fall Meeting

The Gulf Coast Conference met for the annual fall meeting at Harrison Central High School on August 17, 1970 at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Allen Curry, immediate past president presided in the absence of the new president.

Member schools represented were: Bay St. Louis, Harrison Central, Long Beach, Notre Dame, Ocean Springs, and St. Stanislaus.

New officials of conference schools were introduced by representatives of each school.

The minutes of the spring meeting were read and approved. The financial report was read and accepted. The current balance is $432.27.

Conference champions in basketball and track were recognized and congratulated. Bay Senior High was the track champion in both boys and girls divisions. Notre Dame was the basketball champion.

A new vice-president was elected to replace Mr. Vernon Ehlers who was elevated to the presidency due to the resignation of Mr. Henry Thomas. Brother Lee Barker, principal of St. Stanislaus was elected vice-president for the current year.

Members of the executive council were elected as follows:

President, Vernon Ehlers; Vice-President, Brother Lee Barker; Secretary-Treasurer, Donald Caldwell; Members, Tommy McIlhenny, James Poir, Lance Lumpkin, Allen Curry, Don Hillman, Bob Cuccaro.

A motion was made by Mr. Thomas Reeves and seconded by Lance Lumpkin to use the same method of selecting the all-conference football and basketball teams as was used last year. The motion passed unanimously.

Coaches were reminded to turn in their football schedules to the secretary. Principals were asked to turn in a list of administrative and coaching personnel. Dues ($50.00) should be paid by October 1. The secretary gave out ten conference passes to a representative of each school.

The next meeting will be November 16, 1970 at St. Stanislaus.

For Women Only

By Mrs. Nance C. Pitt

At the eighth month of pregnancy, a time to unburdenedly prepare for the Christmas season. During these long days of no pleasure to rest, the comfort of the home is a good time to bring your book up to date. Addressing greeting cards will be a pleasure. It's a pleasure, too, for watching inner sales with a view of giving away stocking stuffers. Stores are less crowded now and values are abundant. The white sales are tremendous savings on sheets, pillow cases, towels, etc. A good time to buy your own linen closet items that may need.

cheese and press in the oilman masher and cover with foil. Bake at 400 degrees until thoroughly hot, about 25 minutes.

Ritz Corn Pie

1 3/4 cup crushed Ritz crackers mixed with 1/2 cup melted butter. Line the bottom of a 9 x 12 casserole with this mixture. Brown 1/4 cup onion and 1/4 cup green pepper that has been diced in a small amount of margarine, add 1 can of creamed corn. Stir until thickened and add 1/2 cup milk and 2 beaten eggs. Season with 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, salt and pepper to taste. Add about 8 pieces of bacon that have been pre-cooked and broken into bits. Pour this mixture into the ritz shell and bake at 375 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

August — the month when we'd like to get the cleaning done as quickly as possible. Much too hot for much exertion! Why not try Spic and Span? It's safe to use on all washable surfaces — bathroom floors and fixtures, garbage pails, stoves and ovens, barbecue grills, etc. For small jobs use a fourth of a cup to about a third bucket of water. Squeeze out your sponge or cleaning cloth after dipping it into the solution so that it is just damp and watch the fingerprints, spots, marks, etc. vanish with a bit of wiping. Not necessary to rinse afterward.

August — picnic time for the children and outdoor play. Clothing gets a bit grimy, doesn't it? Try adding 1/2 cup of Spic and Span to your regular amount of laundry detergent. It will give you a cleaner wash on those blue jeans and sweat shirts.

Wraps Up Successful Season

This week's Peanuts Olympics was the last competitive event held for Waveland children participating in the summer recreation program.

Olympic games began Thursday afternoon and ended Friday as children competed in 21 events for awards. International Olympic rules prevailed as participants competed in sports like 100 yards and against their own sex. Events in the Olympics placed more emphasis on individual accomplishment than group or team work, as in past events.

The week of August 17-21 will be the last week of the Summer Recreation Program and director Stanley Wolman has announced that the playground will be closed Wednesday and Thursday this week in preparation for the Awards Banquet Friday, August 21.

Children who have attended the recreation program on a regular basis since the opening will be feted by the counseling staff with a dinner on the playground, followed by awards presentations.

John D. Rutherford, well-known as a "party" chef, has consented to cook the main portion of the banquet for the children. Distaff members of the counseling staff will have desserts. A donation of 25 cents for each child will help defray the cost of the food and parents or guests planning to attend will be asked to pay 50 cents.

Weather permitting, the dinner will be held under the trees on the playground, from 4 to 6 p.m., Friday.

Maufray Relates History Coast Oldest Hdw. Store

By Joe Pilot, Staff Writer
 "That was a sincere statement made by Alden L. Maufray, owner-operator of Maufray's Hardware Store, the oldest store of its kind on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and located on storm ravaged Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis, Miss., most of the business section of Bay St. Louis, Miss., last August, showing the voice of the store's history. The Hardware Store, in many ways, was erected in 1893, when F. C. Maufray, Sr., a pioneer in the hardware business, built the store on the site of the old building. The building was sold to the Hardware Store in 1905 and became a hardware store.

The Great Depression came a little later to the Mississippi Gulf Coast than it did in other sections, but it did come. Alden L. Maufray, Sr., with the Hardware Store, was one of the few who remained open. The store was a success, and Alden L. Maufray, Sr., was a successful businessman.

Running a hardware business came as easy as breathing to young Alden. He served as a partnership under the watchful eyes of his father from the age of ten. Alden remembers those days well. "There were many small dairies in and around Bay St. Louis then. We stocked dash-churns, milking pails and bottles and those tops used on bottles," he recalled.

And he continued: "Hens were a big item. . . most women raised chickens in the back yard. . . so there was need for the watering troughs and feed buckets and fencing wire," he said. "In 1933 we bought two big loaves of steel bread for five cents." Alden declared and added: "As a young man, I was sure, but I believe milk sold for ten cents a quart. . . eggs brought 15 cents a dozen and bacon was 15 cents a pound." During the back-yard chicken raising days Maufray Hardware Store stocked things like have since become collectible items. Let's see, what's that? Those fancy old butter molds lovely? And who now has a log-band marker for chickens? Anybody have any toms, some were worth a mill and were the beginning of Sales Tax for the State. Those old milk crocks banded in blue are now cherished as the wooden bread bowls and tin rubbing boards, those handy gadgets used for scrubbing dirt out of clothing as women leaned over the tub. Wash tubs are now used as memo-bulletin boards. Cigar grinders aren't seen very frequently either, and today the coffee grinders are collector's items.

If you can't find it anywhere else try Maufray's, it's a true piece of advice local strangers who are looking for a hard-to-find item. It's a good advice too, for Maufray's stocks items for people of all ages -- from the can't walk yet to the can't bend now. There are baby strollers, safety gates that crawlers can't climb over; there is the "pecan gatherer", a device that looks somewhat like a bed spring and attached to a stick -- for those who get a back ache when they bend. Possibly the biggest calling item these days are for the fisherman. A whole section of the store is devoted to such things as casting nets, lures, rods and reels, dip nets and fish and hooks -- even spoils of plain and fancy rod winding thread.

Does Maufray know his stock? Yes -- sir -- in response to the request: "Have you got a wide shovel for handling oyster shells?" Maufray's quick reply was: "Go straight down those steps, take a sharp turn to your left, walk to the wall and at eye-level you'll find one. They call them Oyster Scoops." Folks consult Maufray like a patient consults a doctor. In person and over the phone he is asked for advice about everything from what's the best product to use for removing old wax to how to untangle a plastic tie. He steers them right, too. Without doubt he has read every piece of literature and all the instructions on each of the products he stocks. What if he doesn't have a call for brand-name? On the tip of his tongue is the name of each competitor and also their phone number. This information is passed along cheerfully with the "hope you find it there" farewell.

Aside from the fact there is 3,668 square feet of selling space in Maufray's Hardware Store, there are also stairs leading to the storage attic, there's a glass front door and the Camille caused "Side Entrance", so Maufray estimates that he walks "about twenty miles on any given day". Then, for relaxation Wednesday afternoons are spent fishing and almost every week he attends a square dance. When asked about his hobbies, Maufray said: "I enjoy fishing for large mouth bass. Fish half a day on Wednesday -- couldn't afford to close the store for a whole day." He added that the largest bass he ever caught weighed four and a half pounds and admitted "eight year old boys have done better". When asked if he plans to close the side entrance now that the store has been remodeled and the hurricane ravaged entrance repaired, he gazed from the glassed front door, studied the view of the Bay and the railroad bridge, now a clear expanse with not a building to block the vista, and replied: "No, some people like to come in that side entrance. I hope I don't have to close it. I would cut a hole in the roof if it would help to get people to come in." Years ago . . . and blocking the view of the Bay and the Railroad bridge was Mrs. di Borsatto's Grocery Store. She sold fresh home-grown vegetables and helped many a housewife to have her own "pocket money" for she bought for re-sale live chickens, and eggs. When a housewife had spent to satisfy some whim she explained to her husband: "Don't fret. I bought it with my chicken-and-egg money."

Alden Maufray -- now selling hardware for the fifty-fourth consecutive year says: "The more I learn about hardware, the more I realize how much more there is to learn about it."

To visit the store is an education. Yes, you can get cow bells in five sizes, sure people need kerosene burning lamps during power-shut offs -- power lawn mowers -- to the front, cord in the boxes, anybody need a rubber worm to fool a fish?

Library Purchases Copying Machine

In a determined effort to serve the needs of the people of Hancock County the City-County Public Library recently purchased an A. B. Dick 675 copying machine. This machine is made available to business men, students, private individuals -- just anyone who has a need for an exact reproduction of a document.

To give an example of the accuracy of the work of this machine, even script writing or that done with a ball point pen is duplicated. A copy can readily be made of a cancelled check, or of a letter when the signature is needed to authenticate the document. A copy may be made of a map, or a page from a book. Research workers hail this machine as a "Liberator from tedious and arduous tasks".

Continuous copies roll out from the machine which can make a single copy or as many copies as desired, and to destroy some of the expenses a small charge is made of 15 cents for single copies, or 2 copies for 25 cents. If multiple copies are required the cost is based

USDA Announces Change In Data

The county ASCS office has announced a change in supporting data needed on claims filed for hurricane debris clearance. All persons having emergency practice approvals are requested to furnish this data with their performance reports. No performance reports will be accepted without records to fully support the applicant's cost.

Persons employing a contractor to perform the practice should file a statement of cost of performing the practice with the county ASCS office. This statement must be supported by receipts for paid bills or cancelled checks. The supporting receipts must show what the work covered and be signed and marked paid by the person receiving payment. The checks must also show that the payment was for debris clearance. The county office will only reimburse claims that have been previously paid by the applicant.

The county office will consider cases where the applicant is unable to pay for the work before he is reimbursed. Persons who are financially unable to pay for debris clearance may apply for the payment to the contractor. The assignment must be filed in the county office.

There must be a bill on the actual cost of debris removed filed for assignments before the payment can be made. The use of the assignment permits the county office to disburse payment directly to the contractor rather than the applicant.

The change in procedure for making payments for debris removal has become necessary because some persons are attempting to mis-use the emergency programs by various methods for their own personal gain. Some of these methods are by use of inflated cost statements, checks which never occurred, persons furnishing bills with false signatures, and retaining portions or all of the payments owing to a contractor for debris removal work. This type of action is clearly intentional on the part of those involved.

The county committee and the county office request that those persons involved in such cases take immediate action to clear these cases. The program was intended to help people recover from the hurricane and not to profit from it. The county office intends to use any means necessary to see that both the Emergency Conservation Act and the Office of Emergency Preparedness Programs are administered as they were intended.

The county office requests full cooperation from all persons involved in debris removal practices. Such action as stated above is serious and will be dealt with in the same manner.

Plans Finalized

At a recent meeting of the Hancock County Planning Commission plans were finalized and procedure agreed upon between developers of the Jordan River Shores subdivision and members of the Commission.

In conforming to the terms of the agreement, a deposit of $400 per lot for each lot sold is to be placed in a New Orleans bank and should the developers fail to provide a sewage system, potable water and paved streets, the recovery money will go to the county of Hancock to be used in bringing the subdivision up to specifications and regulations.

A sum of $40,000 was said to have been on deposit, however, neither attorney Griffith or President of the Commission, Roy Baxter, were qualified to affirm this statement. Griffith said on Wednesday morning: "I do not know. I am waiting on a letter from the bank now. Perhaps we can give you this information a bit later."

upon the number of copies needed.

Library hours have been made flexible with Tuesday night open until 8:00 p.m. in order that those who find usual hours inconvenient may also take advantage of the facilities.
